

September 17, 2007

Dear Mr. Jespersen,

We are writing on behalf of our entire class to ask if you would correspond with us. We are senior forensic science majors at Duquesne University currently taking a forensic investigations course. In this class we learn different crime scene investigation techniques, police procedures, and evidence recovery.

One of the required readings for this class is the book "I," and we are interested in learning more about you. We feel that you could teach us a great deal about the legal system and forensic science from your standpoint. For example, what knowledge of forensic science did you have at the time of your crimes? We hope you can inform us about the role forensics played in your experiences.

We look forward to hearing back from you Mr. Jespersen. We are hoping that you will agree to correspond with us because we still have many unanswered questions. Thank you very much for your time. Our mailing address, should you choose to correspond with us, is:

Duquesne University
Forensic Science and Law Program
341 Fisher Hall
600 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15282

Sincerely,

Cara Spencer

Lyndsie Schantz

Natalie Sciulli