

You have questions:

#1 To clean up Taeyu - what chemicals?

I used the standard Steam and Vacuum Cleaner from ALBERTSONS. Standard Soap and water applied with a mop and let it soak in - then basically running the steam into the carpet and vacuuming up the fluid. let dry.

As for the walls, Lysol and water solution to wash the walls using a sponge, I've used the same solution to clean apartments before.

#2 Why not paint the room?

Too much work! The room had lots of smoke residue and it would have been a big job to use a solution to wash the walls of this residue. The blood splatter I came across came off with a sponge. Months later I used a knife to scrape away the splatter.

#3 Learn different identification techniques? Angela's case?

I had read two crime magazines and they provided me with certain solutions. Most importantly, I watched a lot of Perry Mason reruns to see cases develop in an Azur.

I felt a need to erase Angela's looks and hands to get rid of her identification. Dragging her face down in the roadway seemed to be the logical choice at the time.

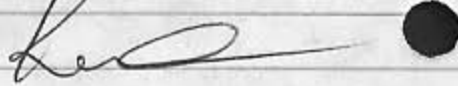

441 AS FOR prior knowledge of cleaning?

Been in property management and in the past, I had been in the cleanup of one suicide that eventually caused us to burn the home. She had used a high powered rifle to blow her head off. (The top of it) Been there getting ripe for several days... we cured the inside home and rented it to her.

Her ex husband picked up the kids and took them to Disneyland. She wasn't invited and she shut circuit. After the vacation, they needed me to open the door... I lost my work - then told the Dad to take the kids away. Called the Sheriff and after it was all over - she had most of her were removed. Some of her Brown matter kept working out of the walls and ceiling and carpet.

That's it.

Talk at you soon.

Sincerely

PS. Did you want to buy some art? yes or no? All this mail costs...